Instructions to the Applicant

We need to know if you have adequate financial support to attend the University of Alabama at Birmingham (UAB). Before we can issue you a Certificate of Eligibility (to enable you to get a visa to come into this country, or to transfer from another university in this country), the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service requires us to have documentary evidence of your ability to pay the expenses you will incur by living and studying here.

If you are being privately sponsored: Your financial sponsor must complete the affidavit or financial support on the other side of this sheet, have it notarized, and return it to us with the supporting documents specified (see "Supporting Documents" below).

If you have been awarded a scholarship to pay your expenses: The organization awarding you the scholarship must send us a letter (original, or a notarized copy) on official letterhead stationery and dated no earlier than 12 months before your intended date of enrollment at UAB. The letter must specify the amount, conditions, and duration of the award, and preferably tell us how we are to bill the scholarship awarding organization for your expenses.

If you have been awarded financial assistance by UAB: If you have been awarded a UAB Graduate School Assistantship or Fellowship, we already have the information on your award. However, these awards often do not cover all of your expected expenses. Unless your award covers all tuition and living expenses, you must make satisfactory arrangements to cover the remainder of your expenses. This will probably involve private sponsorship, in which case your sponsor needs to proceed as stated above.

Instructions to the Applicant's Private Financial Sponsor

We cannot issue a Certificate of Eligibility (to allow the student to enter this country, or to transfer from another university in this country) until we receive a completed affidavit and supporting documents from you, the financial sponsor.

The Affidavit of Financial Support: The affidavit on the other side of this sheet pledges your financial support, in an amount sufficient to cover the applicant's anticipated living and studying expenses. The affidavit must be complete, typed or clearly printed. You, the applicant's financial sponsor, must personally sign the affidavit (no one else may sign for you). The affidavit must be sworn to or affirmed by you personally before a notary public, attorney, U.S. consular official, or other official authorized to administer oaths. This officer must complete and sign the "Certification" section of the affidavit.

Supporting Documents: In addition to the completed affidavit, you must send us documentary evidence of your ability to provide the financial support that you are pledging. This supporting evidence should be an original letter on official stationery from a bank or other financial institution in which you have readily available funds. The bank letter must state the dates your accounts were opened and the specific dollar balances in the accounts at present (or as of a date no earlier than 12 months before your student plans to enroll at UAB). We CANNOT accept income tax returns, statements of property ownership, or statements of retirement accounts as evidence of ready availability of funds.
